Kindt Nominated on First Ballot Over Three Others

Largest Convention in Federal Constituency
Indicates Great Interest in Diefenbaker
Government's Program After 22 Years of Liberal Rule.

Over 600 filled the Memorial Hall in High River on Wednesday afternoon, to ballot on the selection of a candidate to contest the next Federal election, expected to be called on short notice (March 31st). Of four names submitted Lawrence E. Kindt, P-C candidate last June, gained the majority of more than 3 to 1 over his nearest rival, G. Rider Davis, QC, and a majority over the combined votes of the other three nominees. The vote cast by those registering were as follows:

Lawrence E. Kindt	268
G. Rider Davis, QC	86
For Macleod	63
Donag Gairbairn	49
Sam Brown, Jr.
High River

Proposers and seconds of the nominees were:

For G. Rider Davis, Albert G. Swinerton of Fort Macleod, and Lewis Allison of Pincher Creek.
For Sam Brown, Jr., Clayton Young of High River and Mrs. H. K. Beddingfield of High River.
For Donag Gairbairn, Bill Thompson of Gladys Ridge, and Mrs. Roy Henderson of High River.

For Lawrence E. Kindt, Phillip Hedmett of Fort Macleod and Archie Hoag of Turner Valley.

Movers and seconds for the respective nominees were allowed three minutes for the mover, two minutes for the seconder, and the nominees were allowed each ten minutes.

Chairman of the convention was R. Clark Fraser, president of Macleod Federal P.C. Constituency Association.

All areas of the constituency, which is approximately 140 miles wide east to west and the same distance north to south, were well represented.

From Fort Macleod two chartered buses were used, conveying supporters of the nominees, while most of the delegates from the Crow's Nest Pass and more distant areas travelled by car. It was the largest attended convention in the records of the party in the constituency.

For a brief period during the addresses, the power was shut off, but this did not stop the proceedings. Following the announcement of the ballot, the successful nominee, Dr. Kindt, addressed the convention, thanking the executive, and his supporters throughout the constituency. He strongly emphasized the urgent necessity of organizing in every polling district for only by doing this can victory be secured.

Executive Officers Appointed

Following the convention, new executive officers were appointed. Mr. Clark Fraser, who for several years has been president, resigned as he has to go into hospital for surgery and treatment, therefore he informed the convention he would bid farewell for the present. Lewis Allison of Pincher Creek, chairman of the nominating committee, submitted the following as the new executive which was adopted:

P. S. Kretzner, Fort Macleod, former vice-president, to be president; Sam Brown of High River, first vice-president; Stanley Wyatt, Claresholm, second vice-president; Mrs. M. Milvain, Fort Macleod, secretary; Phillip Hedmett, Fort Macleod, treasurer.

Clayton Young, former treasurer of High River, who was proposed to remain as treasurer, asked that his name be withdrawn, as it would be more convenient if the president and treasurer as well as the secretary, were in the same town where decisions could be more readily effected.

Elsie W. Woolliams

Guest Speaker

Progressive Conservative candidate for Bow River constituency, who contested the June 10th election against C. E. Johnston, Social Credit, briefly addressed the convention on the record of the Diefenbaker government.

He congratulated the successful nominee and urged that he be given united support of the delegates and executive in order to win the seat for the Progressive Conservative party.

A collection was taken to meet the convention expenses, and coffee and doughnuts were served at close of the convention.

Canadian Legion Polio Drive Starts Sunday, Feb. 9

President R. Bowman of the Coleman Legion announced this week that the local Canadian Legion Polio Campaign would get underway on February 9th.

The campaign will be under the direction of Mr. William Smith, chairman for the drive.

During the last four years all branches of the Canadian Legion in Alberta have had a campaign to collect funds to help polio victims. Mr. Bowman stated "We appreciate the fact that during the past two years we have had a number of new cases in Alberta. But we still have a large number of former cases who still need assistance."

We are now starting our 1958 campaign and as you all helped us in the past few years we hope that you will continue to do so in our present campaign. We have been fortunate in being able to help in some local cases and gave a considerable amount towards the purchase of respirator which was presented by all Pass branches to the Crow's Nest Pass Hospital last year.

This equipment is of the utmost assistance to doctors in polio cases. Polio chairman, William Smith, stated that no quota had been set as the committee realized the financial condition of the people of Coleman, but he sincerely hoped

Grands Turn Trick, End Selkirk Win Streak at Nine

Coleman Grands turned on the power on Wednesday night, and swamped the Selkirk 10-4 in Bellevue. Short four men, the Selkirks went down to their first defeat after nine straight wins in league play.

The Grands built up a decisive 4-0 lead in the first stanza. Early in the period Ted Kryczka scored on a pass from Siodellaro. Al Gettman made it 2-0 at 12:30 followed by Rensinger and Churla. Tarron, Ferny and Churla widened the margin to 7-0 before the Selkirks could make the score sheet in the second period. Tom Boelling, playing his first game this season, tallied on a long shot that spoiled Joey Joseph's shut-out. Rensinger placed his second mark at the 18:40 mark followed quickly by Andy Drobrot, at 18:59 for the Cranbrook aggregation, to close the frame at 8-2.

Fraser of Coleman, then Mike of Cranbrook, opened the third period scoring look Churla then got his third for the hat trick and Tom Boelling potted his second goal to end the scoring for the game.

Last Saturday's Game

The Selkirks' road trip to Bellevue where they played the Coleman Grands proved to be an eventful Saturday night when they fought through 60 minutes of rough free-wheeling hockey, to win 5-4. Penalties were handed out left and right to the Selkirks with everything from two minute minors to match misconducts being served. The game was tight all the way with first Coleman and then the Selkirks taking the lead.

Al Bennett scored his second goal of the current season at 4:25 of the opening stanza. Seconds later Al Gettman knotted the count with no further scoring being registered in the period.

The second session ended in a tie as well. Ted Kryczka put the Grands one up at 5:50 mark. Wally Tymchyna scored the Selkirks' second goal, then "Moose" Ronquist made it 3-2. Siodellaro, on a pass from Kryczka and Rensinger, boosted the count to a 3-3 tie in the closing minutes of the frame.

During the period Andy Drobrot served a minor and a misconduct penalty and then Al Bennett was given a minor, a misconduct and a match misconduct for his willingness to tangle with referee Shorty Jenkins.

In the final frame Drobrot gave Cranbrook the edge at the 2:30 mark, this lasted for only five minutes then the count was again knotted by Churla. Both teams fought in on goal time after time in an effort to penetrate the goal mouth and it was with only 40 seconds remaining in the game, that Harvey Nash fired the rubber past Joey Joseph to put the Selkirks on top by a 5-4 score.

Referees were Dave Flint from Cranbrook, and Shorty Jenkins of Coleman.

William Kovach, M.L.A., States Possibilities for Pass Future Good

At a meeting held in Frank last week, Mr. William Kovach, MLA, stated that possible industrial prospects for the Pass region looked very good. This is indeed an optimistic outlook after the steady decline of business in the Pass area. Mr. Kovach stated "The way things are moving now, something will break soon." Following is Mr. Kovach's address:

He began by saying that "things definitely look better for this area than they have before and I think we have seen the worst for many years to come." He indicated that something was expected to break here this year and hinted it would be east of here.

Although the restrictions being placed on oil are affecting this and other areas, Mr. Kovach felt that this would be cleared up soon. He said the Alberta Gas Trunk is looking into the possibility of coming down the Happy Valley to Burnis or Landbreck areas where lines from other gas wells in the surrounding district could be connected. He said there was a possibility of another processing plant being built in the Landbreck, Cowley or Burnis area. He also said that when the natural gas line would be put through the Crow's Nest Pass, other industry would come to the district.

He reported on a trip he made last fall with engineers to the mountains in the Pass district. One of the men, Mr. Kovach said was indirectly a representative of the Krupp Iron and steel works in Germany. The men were looking over some hematite deposits in the district and were very enthused with the potentials in this district.

Mr. Kovach also said that there was a possibility of a fibre glass industry coming to this area. Samples of slag from the iron ore deposits in this area were requested from a firm in Eastern Canada for tests for producing fibre glass.

Mr. Kovach then outlined the possibility of industry developing from the fine clays in the Mill Creek area from which he said brick and tile plants could sprout up. This industry, he said, could come with the bringing of the gas line through this district as natural gas was necessary for this industry.

He also reviewed the possibility of a thermal plant for the area should this part of the province develop industrially.

In concluding his address, Mr. Kovach said "the way things are moving now something will break very soon."

Cranbrook Writer Sees Grands Team To Beat

Murray Wheaton, sports writer on The Cranbrook Courier, in his weekly survey on the hockey front believes that Coleman Grands will be the team that will take second place for playoff positions, and will be the team to beat if Selkirks want to win the A. B. C. - M. title.

The Coleman Grands put a sudden and violent end to the Selkirks' winning streak when they tied a 10-4 loss on the local club after the latter had run up a string of nine straight wins in league play.

In defence of the Selkirks it must be said that they played this game minus four regulars, and against a club like the Grands a full squad is definitely needed.

Last Saturday's game was a narrow win for the Selkirks, their ninth and they had to have a full squad on hand to take out the victory. Considering the shortage of players last night the club did very well to hold the ever-growing and ready Grands to a six-goal margin.

However, regardless of what happens from now to the end of the season the Selkirks have the league title sewed up and no combination of wins or losses for the balance of league play can move them from that lofty position. They have been the class of the league all season, with their wide-open, fast-skating brand of hockey, but you can't take anything from the Coleman Grands who look like certain second place finishers and who would have been much higher in the standings if they had had ice all season. They are going to be a tough aggregation to beat come playoff time and from here it would appear that the Selkirks and Grands will meet in the final series.

Traffic Accident

Crow's Nest - Driver Jim McNeely and his wife luckily escaped serious injury when the large semi-trailer diesel truck they were driving slid on an icy corner at the west end of the curving road at Crow's Nest Lakes.

After glancing off the steel cable railing around the lakes, it plowed into the solid rock cliff on the other side of Highway 3.

The truck, operated by Mr. McNeely was proceeding west to Vancouver when the accident happened about midnight Saturday.

The RCMP of the Blairmore detachment and Hall's Ambulance, were called to the scene.

Mrs. McNeely was taken to hospital for treatment for cuts, bruises and other injuries. She was released this week. Mr. McNeely sustained a cut finger and bruises.

King "Coal" Slowly Dying

The last week has seen the coal industry gasping for breath. Closures of mines and continued layoffs in Western Canada's once-prosperous coal industry has seriously injured the employment situation of hundreds of coal miners. The big question is "how long can King Coal survive?"

In our estimation it's taking its last few gasps.

Here in Coleman, the Coleman Collieries again reduced its working forces last week with the lay-off of a number of men, and it is rumored that further layoffs can be expected at any time.

How much longer the Collieries can continue to operate is a question of time, depending, of course, upon future coal orders.

Following are reports concerning the closures of mines in the western provinces as reported in leading dailies.

*FERNIE SUFFERS BLOW AS COLLIERY CLOSURE

FERNIE, B. C. (HNS) — Dim prospects face over 225 employees of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Ltd. who have been thrown out of work by the closure of the Elk River Colliery. The last shift was worked on Monday though the mine does close officially today, January 31. A number of employees have been laid off by the M.F. and M. Railway, a subsidiary of the Coal Company. Layoffs of store clerks, etc., due to slackening of business expected from the mine closure will bring the total unemployed to about 300, or almost half of the working force of the city, which has a population of 2700.

Many of the miners have done no other type of work. Some of them have spent thirty, forty or more years in the pits. To them the prospect is very dark. Possibility of transfer to Michel colliery was shattered when union seniority rules were restricted to colliery and not to company employment. As a result only about 75 of the 300 Elk River Colliery employees can be transferred. Most of the men laid off are home-owners who put their savings into either purchasing homes or in improving homes badly run down during the depression thirties. The value of homes will be greatly depressed. Any home sales will be at rock bottom prices.

Miners Register
Employment possibilities are dim as it is the slack season throughout the country. The Coal Company has agreed to take on its Elk River employees as openings occur at Michel, but this would take a couple of years or more before all could be absorbed in the present labor turnover rate. All these laid-off men have registered for unemployment insurance.

The City of Fernie will be hard hit as property values will be depressed, half of its ratepayers unemployed and non-payment of taxes can be expected. In addition the resulting serious welfare problem could become an unbearable burden for the city. Plans for a Senior Citizens Home as a Centennial project are well advanced but will, of necessity, await the outcome of the next few months. Civic, business, community leaders and the public, realizing the seriousness of the situation, are combining their efforts to seek a solution.

The matter has been brought to the attention of both the federal and provincial governments for some action.

Annual Meeting Con. School Dist. Calls For New School

FRANK, Alta. — Approximately 25 electors of the Crow's Nest Consolidated School District attended the annual meeting held in the Frank Community hall this week. William Jallep of Blairmore was appointed chairman and L. G. Huntley acted as secretary.

First report heard was that of Supt. M. McEachern which indicated that the total pupil enrolment for the district was 853 in June while in December, the figure was 863, an increase of 10.

The attendance record showed that an average of 94.6 per cent had attended in the spring term and for the whole area 93.8 per cent had attended for the fall term. Mr. McEachern said the newly-formed district was operating very satisfactorily.

Chairman's Report

T. J. Costigan, chairman of the board, presented his report. He said when the district was formed a year ago there was considerable doubt that it would be able to operate smoothly but now that the first year had elapsed he said he was pleased to announce that the district is working out very well. He said that buildings had been improved and students had been given first rate training. He indicated that the regulations had been reduced in the spring.

He also reported that the possibility of building a new school for the district had been looked into by the board and had been discussed among the teachers but to date no resolution had been recorded on the books. He said the government had been contacted regarding a new school and that architects had been interviewed about plans and that a number of plans had been submitted.

Mr. McEachern was called upon and informed the meeting that the school board were looking into a 16-room building which would cost in the neighborhood of $260,000. Of this amount he said, government grants would be $260,000 of cost and the district would be obligated to pay approximately $100,000. This amount, he said, could be borrowed over a period of 20 years and would thus mean only approximately three mills on the tax rates.

A discussion on the school project followed and it appeared that the general feeling among the teachers and some parents present, that a new school was warranted for this district as the present buildings were described as being out of date. As a result of the discussion a motion was made that the school board look further into the matter of a new school and take immediate action to call public meetings to further discuss the matter.

The auditor's financial statement was read, discussed and accepted.

'Time' Magazine Assignment Given for Fernie Mine Closure

"Time" Magazine has assigned Mr. Henry Buckna, photographer of Creston, to secure pictures and information regarding the closing of the collieries there. This closure of the Fernie mine has caused great concern throughout the western mining area.

Mr. Buckna's job will call for him to photograph the mayor, main street, pictures of the collieries, and record what people have to say about the mine closing. This assignment will bring to the people of Canada the plight of the coal industry.

It is sincerely hoped by all of the people concerned in the industry that something will be done to give a more secure position to the miners.

Of Many Things

Where You Pay To Be Sold

(By Ambrose Hills)

In the final month of 1957 the Toronto Telegram came out with this headline: TAXPAYERS SUBSIDIZE TV COMMERCIALS. The first three paragraphs of the story, by staff writer David Proulx, ought to make you wince somewhere in the neighborhood of your pocket-book.

"CIV" is subsidizing its sponsors. "The Government is subsidizing the CBC."

"And YOU the taxpayers, are helping to pay for the commercials you see on Canadian television."

Well, it may be a headline in the daily papers today; but readers of the weekly papers were told the same truth in the weekly press as far back as 1956, in this very column.

I do not relate this story to boast about a scoop, because columnists in the weekly press are not expected to come up with news scoops; that's not their job. I relate it because I feel strongly that this subsidy business has gone on far too long.

Advertisers in magazines, newspapers, and billboards are expected to pay an established rate, published in advance and strictly adhered to by reputable publishers. The lower-main-street form of dickering is frowned on. Publishers who make too many "deals" to get advertising, usually wind up with poor papers or go broke. Certainly they cannot call on taxpayers to make up the difference.

Is it fair that broadcasting should again be singled out for special treatment? How long can the weekly press compete for national advertising, if many national advertisers can negotiate a "deal" with the tax-supported CBC?

I think this is important to every small community. A weekly newspaper in a district is, in my opinion, an important contributor to the culture of that district even if the editor doesn't wear a beret, cultivate a fake English accent, or teach his linotype operator to ballet dance in their spare time. And it costs keep rising and national advertising revenue falling, many a community will find itself without a paper.

Besides, in my opinion at least, some of the dancing girls and scantily clad singers on CBC's subsidy programs would not be missed if sponsors couldn't be found to pay the full shot for such displays. I cannot bring myself to believe they are a cultural necessity outside of nightclubs. So far nightclub operators have not, to my knowledge, been able to get any subsidy from the government or the general taxpayer's pocket.

If you agree with me, why not tell your member of parliament that you'd rather your tax money did not go to help soap manufacturers soft soap you? I think you'd soon get action!

Banks To Help Canadian Heart Fund

Montreal, February 3. All 4,700 branches of chartered banks in Canada have offered to aid the Canadian Heart Fund campaign by accepting donations and issuing receipts. It was announced today by James Muir, General Chairman of the fund, who is Chairman and President of The Royal Bank of Canada, said $850,000 is needed to co-ordinate research into the prevention and treatment of Canada's greatest killer disease.

This action was taken by the banks, Mr. Muir explained, because the Canadian Heart Fund has not well-organized formal collecting and canvassing agencies outside of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan. It is relying upon public recognition of the urgent need to prompt volunteer donations.

"I must tell you frankly," said the General Chairman, "that I was surprised and shocked to learn of the inadequacy of our resources in this vital cause. Like many others, I was unaware that we had no all-Canadian organization, but only a few hard-working provincial centres and hospital teams of research men."

The menace of heart disease in its many forms is snowballing rapidly. One out of every two deaths in Canada is caused by heart disease; more than 1,200,000 people in Canada are suffering from some form of heart disease; and there are 300,000 Canadians seriously crippled by heart disease.

As the result of using knowledge already gained, many thousands who have suffered heart attacks are living happily and actively. But much more remains to be done to stem the ruthless scourge. As Mr. Muir remarked to the Press: "It is not heart research that is new what we need is to step it up in tune with the increasing impact. Our medical scientists have been vigorously studying heart disease from the era of Sir William Osler, but there has been no comprehensive, co-ordinated programme of heart research, education and community service developed on a Canada-wide basis. To fill that gap, the National Heart Foundation of Canada has been incorporated by federation of the six existing provincial Foundations, other organizations and persons."

The two-pronged attack planned by the National Heart Foundation—research and education—will be an all-out effort to bring under control the disease that is resulting in as many deaths as all other causes combined, including cancer, accidents, pneumonia and diabetes. The Heart Fund Campaign, first of its sort, will take place during the month of February.

Canada Cool For Japan

(Byrne Proposal)

OTTAWA, Ont. (cp) — James Byrne (R-Kootenay East) suggested today that Canada send a top-level trade mission to sell Canadian coal to Japan, Trade Minister Churchill agreed to keep the proposal in mind.

Mr. Byrne made the suggestion in the Commons in connection with what he described as "serious loss" of employment in coal mines of the Crow's Nest Pass area in the southern Alberta - British Columbia border area.

Mr. Churchill said Canada's whole trading pattern with Japan is under review. He had not considered a trade mission, but as Canada's trade with Japan was reviewed this possibility would be kept in mind for possible future action.

Mr. Byrne said he knows the Japanese are definitely interested in buying coal from the area. He hoped the government would encourage this.

Later Raymond O'Hurley, parliamentary assistant to Minister Paul Comtois, informed C. E. Johnston (SC-Bow River) that the Dominion coal board is giving sympathetic study to the position of a coal mine at Canmore, Alberta.

Mr. Johnston said the mine may close because of a lack of orders.

Mr. O'Hurley said he believes the government would be able to forestall the shutdown by accepting recommendations of the board.

BUSINESS NEWS

BRANTFORD, Ont. (Special) Business news affects the economy of Canada to a high degree and businessmen are obligated to co-operate with the press by making available newsworthy information. Ira G. Needles, president of B. F. Goodrich Canada Limited told the Brantford Board of Trade.

Both daily and weekly newspapers are determined to present both sides of any situation but businessmen must learn to trust and respect the press and not hide behind the deplorable phrase "no comment," said Mr. Needles. He urged business and industrial leaders to take the press into their confidence in order to give Canadians a true picture of what he termed "Canada's dynamic future prosperity."

The rubber executive cautioned against confusing news with advertising. "The news story will appear in the news columns but product and sales stories belong in the paid advertising columns," he said.

Mr. Needles predicted a consumer "break-through" of major proportions early in the second half of the year. "Industry is presently gearing for high rates of production and we are optimistic about future business levels. Canadians are demanding a higher standard of living and business spokesmen will be doing a real service to the nation by talking confidently about their plans for growth and prosperity. Through the business columns of the press, a re-kindling of the spark of faith in Canada's progress could take place," he stated.
